

WEEK 05 / GAMING'S IMPACT ON PEOPLE AND SOCIETY

Representation, Inclusion, and Accessibility

Analyzing representation and inclusivity in gaming.

This week we analyze representation and inclusivity in gaming, discussing how different groups are portrayed and the efforts to create a more inclusive gaming environment, including the role of features that make games more accessible to all players. This includes assistive technologies and design principles. We will also take a look at character design, storylines, representation among the game development community, and community dynamics.
